INDEX	16

The subjects covered in this lending library are related to the foreign-born, his background and his adjustment to America. The use of these books, through public libraries, adds to the better understanding of each race by the others; the books also assist an intelligent and loyal citizenship of those recently having alien status. A limited number of important translated novels are included for their value in reflecting the life and literature of races prominent in Massachusetts. Important clipping and pamphlet material not listed is also available in the collection of the Division.

In addition to use by teachers, club members, and others concerned with inter-racial matters, the content of these books will be of special interest to that group among the foreign-born themselves whose tastes are intellectual and whose English is advanced.

The supplement lists books in easy English adapted in form and content to adult foreigners learning this language.

Application for books should be made through the local public library. Books are not sent to individuals. Any public library may ask for a particular book or books whether listed in this catalog or not; if books desired are not owned by the Division, they will be bought if probable future use for them justifies.

Address requests for books in English of inter-racial interest, or for books in foreign languages*, to Supervisor of Library Work with Foreigners, Division of Public Libraries, State House, Boston.

* The Division of Public Libraries, through its department of Work with the Foreign Born, has a still larger collection of books in foreign languages not included in this catalog. Books may be borrowed in
